LINDBERGH SAYS
HE WANTS REST*Completed Last Official Function Last Night
at Boston*BULLETIN

Curtiss Field, N. Y., Mar. 2—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 11 o'clock on his flight from Boston. The Colonel and his three passengers were met at the field by Major Thomas G. Lanphier, Harry K. Knight and B. F. Mahoney. They left the field at once for New York by motor.

As soon as Colonel Lindbergh had brought his plane to a stop he climbed out and evading photographers and interviewers went at once to the waiting automobile and was driven to the Hotel Biltmore. Later in the day Lindbergh was scheduled to attend a conference at the headquarters of the Daniel Guggenheim Foundation for the Promotion of Aeronautics.

Boston, March 2—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and three friends hopped from the East Boston airport at 7:43 o'clock this morning for a destination which the trans-Atlantic flier declined to disclose, but which was believed to be St. Louis, Mo.

Col. Lindbergh was driven to the field by Rear Admiral Philip A. Andrews, Commandant of the First Naval District, with whom he had passed the night. He spent half an hour inspecting the five passenger monoplane in which he arrived here yesterday to see his mother, Detroit school teacher, awarded an honor medal by the National Education Association.

Mrs. Lindbergh was not at the field, although she was expected to fly back to Detroit later in the day.

Those with Lindbergh were Major W. B. Robertson and Harold M. Bixby of St. Louis and H. Allan Sullivan of New York, representing the Daniel Guggenheim Foundation. Weather conditions were good.

Hopes for Seclusion.
A tired appearing and obviously travel-worn Colonel Lindbergh hopes for seclusion. His last public engagement is over and he has no plans for the future to announce except a desire to retire to private life.

In his own words, he wound up his public career last night when he saw his mother, honored by thousands of her associates who made her a life member of the National Education Association.

Presentation to Mrs. Lindbergh of the Gold Key, symbolic of the highest gifts within its power, was the highlight of the closing session of the convention. Shortly before, Lindbergh, himself, addressed the convention with a plea for inclusion in the school curriculum of at least an elementary study of aeronautics.

With Mrs. Lindbergh and her son on the platform were Governor and Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller; W. P. McCracken, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, and Joseph M. Gwynn, president of the Department of Superintendence of the Association.

Girl Was Injured.
As the crowd was leaving the hall Miss Charlotte Wells, 23, of Cambridge, either fell or was pushed by the crowd under the wheels of the automobile of Rear Admiral Philip A. Andrews in which Lindbergh was riding.

A rear wheel of the machine passed over one of the girl's feet. A policeman jumped on the running board and directed the chauffeur to halt. The girl was sent to a hospital.

The flier told reporters that he "hoped to return to private life for a time." He declined to say whether he would retire permanently. "The meeting tonight is my last official function. My plans are indefinite after that."

George V. Flint
Died in Southland

George V. Flint, for a number of years a Dixon business man, who for the past year and a half has been traveling in the south for a Cincinnati shoe firm, died at a hospital in Hattiesburg, Miss., at 6:15 o'clock Wednesday evening, death resulting from heart trouble, superinduced by an attack of influenza. News of his death was received by his brother, J. D. Flint of this city, and it was stated the body is en route for Rockwell, where it will arrive at 7:20 o'clock this evening. Funeral services will be held at Steward at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with the Rochelle Masonic lodge, of which he was a member, in charge.

Mr. Flint, who was about 61 years of age, had many friends in Dixon who will mourn his death. For a number of years he was a member of the firm of Flint & Plum, proprietors of the Swissville Grocery; and later he was in business alone on the south side of the river. He was a member of Dixon Camp M. W. A. and is survived by his brother, J. D. of this city, and a sister, Mrs. L. A. Plant of Lee.

D. C. Austin returned last evening from Bloomingdale, Michigan, where he was called several days ago by the illness of his mother, who is somewhat improved.

Sheriff Ward Miller is confined to his home suffering from an attack of tonsillitis.

BODY OF ROCKFORD MAN, THIRD OF HIS FAMILY TO TAKE OWN LIFE, IS FOUND IN DESERTED PART OF TOWN

Apparently despondent over illness, Emil C. Peterson, 50, of Rockford, committed suicide by shooting himself with an automatic pistol Wednesday night or early Thursday morning near a railroad track south of the Hart Oil company's storage plant on Harrison avenue.

The body was found Thursday noon, lying beside a pile of bridge timbers and a pistol under the man's body gave every indication pointing to suicide.

Identified by Checks Stubs.
All means of identification, except a check book, had been removed from the body, but through the check stubs the coroner's office was able to establish identification.

Peterson had gone to the lonely spot during the night, as near as could be discovered, and out of sound of anyone had fired the shot which ended his life.

Third Suicide in Family.
The dead man had lived with his father, John Peterson and his sister, Emma, and worked at the metal trades.

Peterson is the third member of his family to commit suicide. A brother, Edward, ended his own life with a gun many years ago. A few years ago Hugo, another brother, jumped into a cistern and was drowned.

Awaits Friend Whose Place He Took in Prison

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—When John Rinilli of Wheaton, Ill., found that his honeymoon and a 180 day sentence for bootlegging were falling on concurrent dates, he immediately betwined himself of his good friend, Thomas Novilla.

On the day set for his wedding and trial, Rinilli had an idea, which he confided to Novilla.

"You go to court and plead guilty," Rinilli said. "Say you are me. Then stay in jail until I return from my honeymoon, at which time I'll come over and take your place."

Being a true friend, Novilla pleaded guilty and was duly sentenced. That was two weeks ago. Yesterday he began to wonder if John was really going to return at all. He told Sheriff Hatten-dorf all about it.

Now the sheriff is looking for Rinilli, and holding Novilla for security.

Women Threatened.

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—Mrs. Regina Donovan and Mrs. Charles Cleaver, wives of two of the alleged bandits who held up a train in Evergreen Park a suburb Saturday and escaped with $133,000, have been threatened with death.

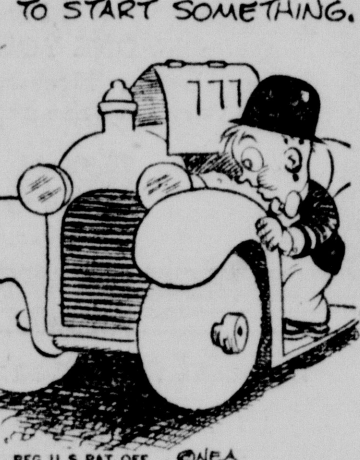

A federal grand jury indicted five men for the robbery after the two women confessed to the authorities and told their stories. Federal authorities have hidden them in a hotel where they will remain under police protection.

Two of the five men named in the indictment, William Jackson and Virgil Litzinger, are still at large.

H. W. Dodson has returned from a business trip which included DeKalb and Rockford.

REED'S DENIAL OF CONFESSION
MADE ON STAND*Young Farmer Says He Did Not Dynamite
Stove at School

Ottawa, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Hiram Reed did not dynamite the Pleasant Valley schoolhouse, he testified at his trial here today.

The young farmer was perfectly calm as he stepped into the witness chair after a chemical expert had testified the explosion in the school stove might have been caused by coal gas.

"The night of Nov. 30 and the morning of Dec. 1 did you place any dynamite in the school stove?" asked Defense Attorney George Sprenger.

"No Sir, I did not," answered young Reed clearly and without hesitation.

"Did you go to the schoolhouse and enter that night or that morning?" the attorney queried.

"No Sir," was the prompt reply.

"Did you open the door of the school with a screwdriver or anything else?" he was asked.

"No Sir."

"Did you use a skeleton key?" "I did not."

"I will ask you whether two months previous to Nov. 30 you bought any dynamite from Dooley Brothers at Peoria or anywhere else?"

"No Sir."

"Did you ever buy any dynamite?" "No Sir, never in my life."

Young Reed said he never had "shot" any dynamite.

Denied Confession.
Attorney Sprenger handed Hiram's first confession to him and went through it paragraph by paragraph, nearly every one of which the young farmer denied.

He testified he told Hanson while the statement was being prepared that it was false and repeated the assertion when he signed it. He admitted he told the State's Attorney to "put in anything you want, I don't care."

"Because I thought the statement was only for my record; that there was to be no publicity and I was not to be prosecuted," replied the young man, "also I thought I would be free to marry the girl."

"That's what you understood?" asked Sprenger and Reed replied affirmatively.

That Immunity Clause.
"Well, who wrote this? If I marry Iowa Bradford before the next grand jury meets this statement shall be used against me on any charges affecting her but if I do not marry her this statement will be used against me?" Sprenger said.

"Hanson wrote it," said the defendant.

The young man testified he was taken into custody at his home near Mossville the night of Dec. 1, and taken to the home of Miss Bradford's sister, Mrs. Howard Clegg. Iowa stayed at the home of her sister about a block from the school.

Reed said they arrived at the Ottawaw jail between 7 and 8 o'clock and the Cleggs arrived at 10.

He spoke to them but they did not reply and a short time later they were taken into another room.

Denied Accusation.
He said he was accused of dynamiting the school and denied it repeatedly, but the accusations continued.

Hanson came in about 2:30 in the morning and continued the questioning until Reed signed the confession, which he declares is false.

"Hanson asked me how much dynamite was put into the stove and I said I didn't know," Reed testified.

"Then after consulting several men in the room he wrote down a stick and a half. He asked me how I fastened it in the stove and I said I didn't know, and he wrote down that I tied it in with a string."

Attorney Sprenger pointed to a paragraph in the confession and said: "This is false isn't it? I put dynamite in the stove intending it to explode when Iowa Bradford got down the next morning?"

"It is false," said Reed.

Young Reed still was under direct examination when the court took its noon recess.

An overnight collection of coal gas might have caused the explosion, according to testimony given by William E. Tyndeman, Ottawa high school chemistry instructor.

"Would it be possible for an explosion of sufficient force to blow out windows, drive pieces of iron three or four inches into the wall and blow one piece eighty feet into the yard, to be caused by any other agent than dynamite?" asked defense attorney George Sprenger.

State Fights Theory.
"Such an explosion might have been caused by the collection of coal gas ignited by lighting a fire," answered the instructor.

Direct examination was short and State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson began a protracted fight to show coal gas would not have collected in quantity sufficient to cause such damage.

"Would coal gas collect in the upper part of a stove with the damper closed and a collection of three bushels of soot in the stove pipe sufficient to knock a person down and cause the damage previously described?" asked the State's Attorney.

"It would," replied the witness. State's witnesses had testified that three bushels of soot was taken from the building after the explosion, and

ASSOCIATED PRESS SPREADS APPEAL TO HARRY OLSON TO RETURN TO HIS ROCKFORD HOME AND BE LIBERATED

If Henry Olson, probably yet unconscious that the stigma of murder has been lifted from him, and still probably fleeing frantically from the shadow of a life sentence in state's prison returns to Rockford, he will be a free man.

In open court he will be pronounced not guilty of the murder after a new trial has been granted and bits of verbal testimony have been taken. The new trial will be but a gesture to fulfill legal requirements and Olson will go free.

A bond of $10,000, posted by Olson's parents, and declared forfeited will be automatically refunded by the state when the court revokes the forfeited order.

This will remove a burden from the aged parents and the brother-in-law of the fugitive, A. G. Eklof, who staked their all to provide the bond.

A nation-wide appeal was being broadcast through newspapers by The Associated Press, urging Olson and the young wife who fled with him, to come back and enjoy freedom and vindication.

WORK SUSPENDED

Work on the Osborn Oil Company's new service station at Hennepin ave. and River street, where the excavation has been practically completed for the installation of three enormous storage tanks, has been suspended, pending approval of the company's plans by the State Fire Marshal's office.

LEFT THE HOSPITAL

Mrs. C. A. Carroll of Oregon, who has been at the Dixon hospital for some weeks past recovering from a paralytic stroke has so far improved as to be able to return to her home this week. She is showing improvement right along.

SHRINERS WILL MEET

Dixon members of Tebala Shrine, Rockford, have been advised that the annual spring ceremonial has been set for April 17, and a class of over a hundred candidates is in prospect. Because Freeport Consistory, which is building a new temple at Freeport, is to meet in Tebala Temple April 10, the Shrine ceremonial takes on added importance this year.

TAX BOOKS COMPLETE

County Clerk Fred G. Dimick today turned over to County Treasurer Dorrance S. Thompson the tax books of the various townships of the county. A record was established this year in the county clerk's office in preparing the tax books for the year. Less than three weeks time was required in completing the books and with less outside help than in any former year. Lee county leads counties of northern Illinois in the completion of the tax lists for the season 1928. In one county the board of review is still engaged in checking over the books.

ESCAPE FRUSTRATED

The activity of the Dixon Bohnstiel and Pomeroy of the Dixon police department frustrated the attempted escape of three boys from the Dixon State Hospital in a stolen car early this morning. The three boys—James Connors, 15; Leon Wigfall, 17; and Harold Prey, 15—were reported as fugitives about midnight and about an hour later the two police men found them attempting to get away in a car which they had taken from the driveway at the home of William Clifford, 111 E. Eighth street. The boys were returned to the state institution and the car to its owner, today.

PLUMBERS TO MEET

The northern Illinois zone of the Illinois Plumbers and Steam Fitters' Association will hold their annual meeting in Dixon on Tuesday afternoon and evening of next week. It is expected that about 150 plumbers and steam fitters of the northern section of the state and southern Wisconsin will attend.

The annual business session will be called to order at 2 o'clock. Tuesday afternoon in the dining room of the Elks club. At 6:30 in the evening the annual banquet will be served and this will be followed by a smoker and program of speaking and entertainment.

Bank Guards to be Formed in Lee Co.

A county wide system of bank guards, the organization of which has been meeting with the hearty co-operation of bank officials and law-enforcement officers, is to take place at a meeting to be held in this city in the near future. The selection of an efficient force of bank guards, who will be deputized by Sheriff Ward T. Miller for service in this particular line of duty only, is practically completed in every city and village where there is a banking institution.

The Dixon banks have joined in the movement as a protective measure and those who will serve as guards locally have been selected. It is planned to hold a meeting in Dixon within a short time when Sheriff Miller and all of his regular deputies and the special bank guards will assemble.

The organizer of the bank guard system which has proven most effective in a number of instances in Illinois and Iowa is expected to be present and address this meeting. Arms and ammunition will also be issued to the guards at this time.

Miss Gertrude Seebach went to Dy-sart, Iowa, last evening called to the bedside of her grandmother, who is seriously ill.

STEWART CHOSEN
CHAIRMAN BOARD
BY STANDARD OIL*Rockefeller Interests Did Not Vote For or Against Him*BULLETIN

Washington, Mar. 2—(AP)—Robert W. Stewart, Chairman of the Board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was elected today by a federal grand jury today for refusing to answer questions about the Continental Trading Company's Liberty bond profits before the Senate Teapot Dome committee.

BULLETIN

New York, Mar. 2—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., who declined to vote for, or against, the election of Col. Robert Stewart as a director of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, at yesterday's meeting of stockholders, is still seeking the facts, and is now taking, and will take, such steps in the matter as he thinks proper, one of his associates declared in a prepared statement today.

The statement was given out at Mr. Rockefeller's office at 26 Broadway, but the identity of "one of his associates" was not divulged.

"The published correspondence which Mr. Rockefeller has had with Senator Walsh," the statement said, "showed that Col. Stewart had offered to resign from the Indiana company on request. In view of this offer and of the fact that his resignation is available at any time, it is clear that nothing would have been gained by opposing Col. Stewart's re-election yesterday."

"Mr. Rockefeller has in his correspondence and in his testimony indicated clearly that if and when he felt that Col. Stewart's resignation should be had, he would not hesitate to request it as far as his stock is concerned. Mr. Rockefeller is seeking the facts and is now taking and will take such steps in the matter as he thinks proper. Since more than 50,000 other stockholders of the Indiana company are involved, it is obvious that Mr. Rockefeller must not act precipitately."

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana meeting Thursday afternoon at Whiting, Ind., re-elected Col. Robert W. Stewart as a member of the board without a dissenting vote, the stock of the Rockefeller interests not being voted either for or against him.

A few minutes after the stockholders had affirmed their confidence in Col. Stewart at Whiting the Board of Directors met in the Standard Oil offices in Chicago and re-elected him Chairman of the Board, a position he has held for ten years. E. G. Seubert was re-elected president of the company.

Letter from Rockefeller.
A letter from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., read at the meeting, stated that he and his associates were not prepared at this time to vote for or against Colonel Stewart. The secretary was instructed to vote all stocks listed in the letter for eight other directors, but neither for nor against Colonel Stewart. The letter stated that the Rockefeller Foundation Finance Committee had issued similar instructions.

The Rockefeller letter, regarded as rescinding proxy or proxies previously sent to Col. Stewart, was taken to indicate a change in the Rockefeller attitude after Col. Stewart's testimony at Washington.

Others Re-elected.

All of the other officers of the company were re-elected except that no one was chosen to replace William M. Burton, former president of the company, who resigned from the board of directors last month.

The meeting was the largest of proxies and stockholders to be held in many years. Previous to the meeting there had been much speculation as to the action regarding Col. Stewart who faces charges, as a result of his refusal to answer questions of the Senate oil committee, as a result of which he was criticized by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Hungry Boy Suicides

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—Frank Campasso, 15, who shot himself Tuesday while despondent because his family did not have enough to eat, died last night despite an operation upon his heart in a desperate effort to save his life.

The boy had sought work unsuccessfully to supplement the scanty earnings of his father to support a family of seven. He asked police not to tell his family he shot himself when taken to the hospital.

Three Officers in Amphibian Plane of U. S. Navy Lost

Commander Theodore G. Ellyson (above), executive officer of the aircraft carrier Lexington, and two flying companions vanished after setting out by plane from Hampton Roads, Va., to Annapolis where Ellyson's small daughter lay ill. With him were Lieut. Com. Hugo Schmidt (right) and Lieut. Rogers S. Ranshouse.

Convinced the two had been slain, the police suggested two possible motives. One was that the boys were attacked by a moron, bound and tossed into the water. The other was that the parents or guardians, tiring of the responsibilities of parenthood or desiring to gain an inheritance, tossed the boys into the muddy water. No report of missing children have been made in this vicinity. Scores of persons viewed the body of the first boy found but none identified him.

To satisfy themselves that no other bodies are in the canal, the police planned to drag it today.

Because the two bodies bore striking resemblances to each other and were dressed alike, police and county coroner believe them to be brothers, apparently from a family in easy circumstances.

Chief of Police John W. Regan believes the bodies were weighted but that the wire broke, allowing them to come to the surface. Both had been in the water about four weeks.

FLIERS FORCED TO LAND ON ICE
FEB. 17TH. SAFE

Word of Safety Came After All Hope Had Been Abandoned

Winnipeg, March 2—(AP)—Lost since Feb. 17 in the snow wastes of the Arctic circle, two aviators and a native were reported safe at Port Burwell on Hudson Straits. The aviators are Flying Officer A. A. Lewis of Winnipeg and Flight Sergeant Terry of the Northern Air Patrol.

Twelve days ago Flying Officer Lewis, Sergeant Terry and a native left Port Burwell on a patrol and observation trip. Several hours after they had left, Lewis reported by wireless from an unknown position that he was landing on the ice. From that time they were lost to their associates at the station at Port Burwell.

Immediately search was organized. Planes were sent from the Burwell base and dog teams were pressed into service to carry other searches. The missing aviators carried emergency rations and were otherwise well equipped, but hope had practically been given up for them.

The message announcing their safety was sent here by Flight Lieutenant A. A. Leitch of Winnipeg, from Port Burwell. It gave no details.

Los Angeles Nears Home Hangar Today

Charleson, S. C., March 2—(AP)—The dirigible Los Angeles passed over Charleson, S. C., at 12:25 o'clock this afternoon.

Washington, Mar. 2—(AP)—After one of the longest outings of her career, the dirigible Los Angeles was speeding up the Atlantic Coast today for her Lakehurst, N. J., hangar, which she left last Sunday morning and completed a non-stop flight to France Field, Panama Canal Zone.

At 6:15 this morning the Los Angeles had been in the air exactly five days and five nights.

Informed that the weather would be favorable for docking today, the ship was cut loose from the Patoka's mast yesterday at 10:43 a. m., turned westward along the southern coast of Cuba, and flown over the island. She passed over Havana at 5:55 p. m. and spent most of the night over the Straits of Florida and South Atlantic coast.

Two Firemen Injured

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—Two firemen were injured and a loss estimated at $150,000 to $250,000 was caused by a fire today which virtually destroyed a commissary house of the Rock Island Lines on the south side. The one story building, a brick structure, is owned by the Pullman Company and housed the dining car supplies of the Rock Island road as well as the repair shops. The firemen were slightly hurt when a wall collapsed.

Judge Harry Edwards and Court Reporter A. C. Gossman will go to Mt. Carroll Monday where they will spend the day in the Carroll county circuit court disposing of cases on the January docket.

BODY OF SECOND BOY TAKEN FROM
CANAL IN INDIANA*Police Convinced of Foul Play: Moron is Suspected

Indiana Harbor, Ind., Mar. 2—(AP)—Bound tightly by heavy wire and fished from the muddy Indiana Harbor ship canal within eight days of each other, the bodies of two well dressed boys, lay unclaimed in a morgue today as the police puzzled over the manner of their deaths.

The first body was found February 22. While police were investigating identification clues in Illinois and Indiana last night, a bridge tender discovered the second body floating down the canal, about a mile from where the first was located. An autopsy revealed that the second boy had been beaten and strangled and then thrown into the canal. Drowning was given as the cause of death in the February case.

Suspect Moron.
Convinced the two had been slain, the police suggested two possible motives. One was that the boys were attacked by a moron, bound and tossed into the water. The other was that the parents or guardians, tiring of the responsibilities of parenthood or desiring to gain an inheritance, tossed the boys into the muddy water. No report of missing children have been made in this vicinity. Scores of persons viewed the body of the first boy found but none identified him.

To satisfy themselves that no other bodies are in the canal, the police planned to drag it today.

Chief of Police John W. Regan believes the bodies were weighted but that the wire broke, allowing them to come to the surface. Both had been in the water about four weeks.

If Peace Moves Today Fair Walkout May Come Monday

New York, Mar. 2—(AP)—Active preparations for a great transit strike, probably not before Monday, were being made today, but New York's riding millions today saw a ray of hope.

A conference was arranged for today between Mayor Walker and William D. Mahon and William B. Fitzpatrick, president and vice president, respectively, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Workers. This seemed to be a final effort to prevent a walkout of the union members on the Interborough Rapid Transit Company's subway and elevated lines.

The differences between the I. R. T. and the union grow out of the discharge of several union members from the company's employ.

Over 700 men, recruited in New York and brought in from Washington, D. C., and other cities were quartered today in company car barns, being trained to take the places, if necessary of the Amalgamated men.

Not Before Monday.
It was generally believed a strike would not be called before Monday at the earliest, as it was pointed out in union circles that the members must first vote the strike and then several hours would probably be given before the strike order would be put into effect.

Interborough officials declare only ten percent of their men belong to the A. F. of L. organization and that their own I. R. T. Brotherhood, the company union, enrolls nearly 100 per cent of the company employees.

REED'S DENIAL OF CONFESSION MADE ON STAND

the defense turned this to their advantage today.

Hanson Sarcastic

"Well, if there was a quart in the pipes would your answer be the same?" the prosecutor asked.

"That would depend largely on where it was collected in the pipes," said Mr. Tydemann. He testified that the explosion of coal gas might have driven the piece of iron through the window eighty feet. He said he thought it was hardly possible that three bushels of soot would accumulate in a stove between Sept. 27, when it was put up in the school, and Dec. 1.

If the chimney had been clear of soot the gas formed probably would have passed out over night although the damper of the pipe was closed, the witness said.

Previous testimony was to the effect that just before going home the night of Nov. 30, Miss Bradford placed a large lump of soft coal on a few embers. When she came down the next morning she took a poker and broke up this lump of coal, placed some newspapers and corn cobs inside and lit the paper front and back, closed the door and the explosion followed.

The witness testified that when live coals were in sufficient quantity only to heat up a piece of coal of the size described, a great deal more gas was formed than when the coal actually was burned.

State Rested Case

After calling a dozen witnesses, including Miss Bradford, the prosecution closed its case yesterday. Reed's first confession, describing how he stoked dynamite into the schoolhouse stove, was admitted as evidence by the court over objections of the defense.

Two other defense motions were denied by the court during the state's presentation of evidence. The first attacked the manner in which the indictment against Reed was drawn.

The second asked the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of acquittal because of certified variance between charges in the indictment and proof offered by the prosecution.

It is expected that two sessions will be held, the initiation of all candidates taking place in the afternoon and will be in charge of the team winning the district initiation contest. A banquet will be held this evening after which the degree team from Rockford will have charge of the second degree. Several of the officers of the Illinois Elks association are expected to be present on this occasion.

The annual district initiatory contest will be held at the Elks club house in this city Sunday afternoon, March 11.

BIRTHS

BARLOW—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barlow at the Dixon Public Hospital, Wednesday morning, a daughter, their second child.

A Hot Job for a Cool Head

When a gas well near Corpus Christi, Texas, caught fire and was burning 40,000,000 cubic feet of gas each day, a daring photographer borrowed an asbestos suit and walked to the edge of the blazing crater, shown at the top. He was overcome by the heat and collapsed. Tex Thornton, lower left, who makes a business of fighting gas and oil well fires, donned his own fireproof armor and dragged the camera man to safety. At the right is an action picture of the rescue.

Brains of Capone Gang is Very Ill

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—Jack Gussick, who has been called the brains and business head of the Capone gang, lay critically ill in a hospital today while rumblings of imminent underworld conflict sifted through to the police.

Al Capone, who was ordered out of Chicago several months ago, has come home to take active direction of his affairs because of Gussick's illness. Some significance was attached to the fact that reports of Capone's return followed a police ultimatum to George Moran to leave town. Moran has been regarded by police as the heir to the gang leadership since he held by the florist-gangster Dion O'Bannion, who was slain.

The information reaching police was that Capone returned about ten days ago to prevent disorganization of his forces which might result if Gussick were unable to remain in charge.

Fears were expressed for Gussick's life should word of his whereabouts become known.

THINKS VAL MIGHT RUN

Washington, Mar. 2—(AP)—Although he disclaimed ever having used the phrase "draft Coolidge," Charles D. Hilles, of New York, Vice Chairman of the Republican National committee, declared today after a call at the White House that he prevailed upon to run again. Hilles said he had not discussed politics during his call on the President and that to his knowledge Mr. Coolidge had not elaborated further on his determination not to be a candidate.

The prosecution had informed the court there was insufficient evidence upon which to obtain a conviction.

Rich Diamond Field Found in Capetown

London, Mar. 2—(AP)—Most diamond dealers were confident today that the discovery of an Eldorado in South Africa would not affect the price of diamonds.

Details concerning the field in Namaqualand, in the northwest part of Cape Colony, were related in the South African Assembly at Capetown yesterday. Minister of Mines F. W. Beyers described it as an Eldorado, unique in the history of the country.

He said he had picked up in one hour diamonds valued at £500 ($3,000). Experts were announced to have taken diamonds valued at £160,000 ($800,000) in a few weeks' hand picking from one hundred claims owned by the government. The area contains 30,000 claims.

"It is the biggest diamond field ever discovered anywhere," asserted Sir Davis Harris, Assemblyman from Kimberley and a director of De Beers Consolidated Mines, Ltd.

It was considered probable in London that many dealers determined the effect of this new supply on the market last December when the South African government first announced the discovery, but did not make public the richness of the field. At that time it was stated that the area would be worked in interest of the state. This was taken here to mean that a close watch would be kept on the output and provision made to prevent the market from being swamped.

Out-Jobbing Job

Arcoia, Ill., Mar. 2—(AP)—In one way, Job the afflicted was lucky; he didn't have to drive the "family fiver." At least the Pat Gleason family, farmers of near Arcoia, so believe.

It all happened in one short hour. The family car froze up. Two sons, Charles and Pat, Jr., attempted to thaw out the radiator by running the motor. To make everything warmer, they closed the door of the garage.

Pat felt it first. He staggered outside and the fresh air revived him. Then he went back to warn his brother. As he entered the door, he saw Charles slump to the floor, overcome by the gas.

Pat dragged Charles out, tried to carry him to the house, slipped, fell and sprained his wrist. Then he called Pat, Sr., for assistance.

Pat, Sr., ran out the back door and fell off the porch, cutting a deep gash over his knee which later took several stitches to close. The two Pats then carried Charles to the house and dispatched a younger brother on horseback after a doctor.

Enroute to Arcoia, the horse fell, bruising and skinning the boy badly. The horse wrenched a leg and it may be necessary to shoot him. When a physician finally arrived, Charles was still unconscious. He was revived, however.

Amboy Baptists to Have Special Series

Amboy—Beginning next Sunday morning, March 4 and continuing through March 11, the Amboy Baptist church will hold a series of special meetings. The plan for these Easter meetings is in keeping with that being nationally observed by churches in the Northern Baptist Convention. The object will be to strengthen and enliven the spiritual life of the church in every way and to enlist non-Christians in christian discipline and membership of the church.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock. Arrangements are being made to have special music for each service. The Baptist church is quite fortunate in securing Dr. E. A. Gilmore of DeKalb who will do the preaching at these services. Dr. Gilmore is an able preacher and is lovingly remembered as having given valuable assistance and counsel to the local congregation a few years ago following the burning of the old and the erection of the new house of worship.

The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of these meetings. The aim of the church and the pastor is to make these meetings helpful and inspiring to all who attend.

The eleven piece orchestra will provide music for both Sunday evenings during these meetings.

Good Fellows Father Dead at Springfield

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 2—(AP)—Edward C. Fitch, generally credited with being the man who originated the Good Fellow movement through a letter he sent the Chicago Tribune in 1909, died last night following a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Fitch, who was 65 years old, was an assistant Attorney-General.

The letter on which the Good Fellow idea was founded sought to inspire a Christmas charity which would carry joys as well as necessities to the poor.

"The charitable organizations attended to the bread and meat, the clothes and necessities," said the letter. "You and the rest of the Good Fellows furnish the toys, the nuts, the candies—the child's real Christmas."

The Good Fellow movement rapidly spread throughout the country.

French Fliers Off

Michel Field, N. Y., March 2—(AP)—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph LeBrix, French four-o'clock fliers, took off at 11:35 o'clock today for Detroit on the first leg of a trip back to Paris.

They were flying their biplane "Nungesser-Coli," in which they already had crossed Europe, Africa south and North America and the Atlantic Ocean. A new motor had been installed in the ship since they reached here on Feb. 11.

From Detroit they will continue to San Francisco, sailing from there on March 15 for Tokyo, whence they will resume the flight to Paris.

OLD MASTERS

SOMEWHERE—
(Christian Science Monitor)
In fallow fields the goldenrod
And purple asters beck and nod;
The milkweed launches fairy boats,
In tangled silver the cobweb floats,
Pervasive odours of ripening vine
Fill the air....

With coral chains is the alder laced,
The blackbirds gather, and wheel
and fly,
The swallows twitter a low "good-

DINNER—Ham baked in milk, sweet potato apples, cole slaw, raisin custard pie, milk, coffee.

Beat eggs until very light. Stir in sour cream and add dry ingredients mixed and sifted. Beat well and add melted butter. Beat hard for two minutes and bake on a hot waffle iron.

If the eggs are beaten until very light it is not necessary to beat the yolks and whites separately. Be sure that the soda is thoroughly mixed with the flour before adding the dry ingredients. And keep in mind that a waffle batter is a "pour" batter. These waffles are deliciously crisp and tender.

Charge Politicians Seek to Use P. T. A.

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—Hiding behind the mask of friendship, politicians throughout America are cleverly maneuvering to "use" the power of parent-teacher associations to propagate their own interests. Mrs. Walter H. Buhig, president of the Illinois association, warned today.

In a statement announcing the annual meeting at Streator, Illinois, in April, Mrs. Buhig singled out Chicago as an instance of attempts of politicians to exploit the associations.

"In a period of several years, the parent-teachers associations of Chicago have needed to be alert to avoid dangers of exploitation and actual disintegration as a result of wrong influence. In saying this, I am neither for nor against the various movements. Changes in educational methods, such as the introduction of junior high schools and changes in personnel in the educational system have been occasions for people with ulterior motives to try to use the associations to further their own ends. "Dangers of this sort are increasing all over the state. Local and state leaders must recognize the situation and must be alert to safeguard their organizations from undue political influence in education."

She cited a resolution of the board of managers of the state association, which read:

"Whereas the Illinois Council of Parent-Teachers associations, numbering over 92,000 members, a branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, numbering over a million members, has for more than a quarter of a century devoted itself to promoting co-operation of home and school in the interest of child welfare, and:

"Whereas, there seems to be a constantly increasing effort among political bodies to interfere with and control affairs, therefore be it resolved that the board of managers hereby records the deep conviction that all such interference is destined to belittle the members of the educational profession and definitely lower the standards of public school efficiency, and therefore should be opposed by all right-minded people."

AN OLD MAID'S "FRIENDS"

By Olive Roberts Barton

It is odd how communities neglect people and then when these lonely souls seek comfort in some special diversion down comes the community wrath good and hard, and it begins to take a sudden interest in what concerns it and not profit it nothing.

Once there was an old maid (won't someone please invent a new name for the unwedded woman—spinster is terrible, maiden lady is just as bad) who was taken too much for granted by the town she lived in. She'd been mother's helper, cake-baker for all the parties, nurse, layer-out, bride-dresser and all the rest for years. Gradually all front door invitations ceased and back door requests became so urgent that her health gave out.

She stayed at home after that. But she got lonelier and lonelier. She loved animals, so she bought herself two dogs. Strange to say in a few months there were eight dogs.

She gave away the puppies but they were good puppies and she should have had at least fifteen dollars apiece for them. But no! All the people she had helped considered it their right as old friends to be presented with a puppy free gratis for nothing.

More puppies came. She advertised them in a city newspaper. She put up a sign on her front lawn. People read, stopped, and bought. Her business thrived. She was very happy. But all this time the townspeople were stroking their chins and gossiping hands-on-hips over back fences. Mary Goodwell would have to be told that dog-breeding wasn't ladylike! It was for her own good. She'd soon lose her social position. Her friends would begin to drop her. Besides what would tourists think of dog kennels in the middle of town?

Mary did move, for peace, and more room, to a house down the pike. Her dogs were her friends and her neighbors weren't. For true friends do not substitute criticism for real interest, and Mary knew it. She was unusually wise.

I am always wary of the dormant merely to criticize.

A very tempting birthday cake was the feature of the delicious refreshments

Mrs. Coolidge Now With Her Mother

Northampton, Mass., Mar. 2—(AP)—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the President, was installed in her old home on Massachusetts Street today, so that she might be near to watch over the failing health of her 78 year old mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue.

She arrived from Washington yesterday accompanied by an old friend, Mrs. R. B. Hills of this city, and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, White House physician.

The latter visited the Dickinson hospital, where Mrs. Goodhue has been since last December 11, and with Dr. Justin E. Hayes, her personal physician, made a brief examination of the aged sufferer.

Mrs. Goodhue originally was stricken with influenza. Her condition seemed good until recently. Dr. Hayes said last night that she was failing slowly due to complications incidental to her advanced age.

John Coolidge, a student at Amherst College, came to Northampton last night to dine with his mother.

CIGARETTES TO MATCH COMPLEXION—FASHIONABLE—

Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—Cigarettes to match the complexion, costume and temperament are the latest vogue in fashionable Palm Beach society.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is leading the movement to establish the tubette with women who do not enjoy the flavor of aged cigarette holders. The cigarette comes attached to a straw tube about two and a half inches long which was designed nearly 20 years ago for European women smokers who did not enjoy lifting veils, then in vogue. The straw holders easily slipped through the veil mesh.

Blondes and brunettes are selecting colored silk tips to match complexions, negligees and ensembles. Beige-colored cigarettes with brightly colored tips are especially popular, as are the four-inch, slender Russian smokes. To the other extreme is an inch long Parisian cigarette yielding only a few puffs.

Mrs. Joseph Cudahy, of Chicago, uses a special Turkish tobacco, each leaf of which undergoes a rigid test before being made up for her.

Strip Farming First Tried in Illinois

Kaskaskia, Illinois—(AP)—"Strip Farming" preceded strip mining in Illinois by several scores of years. Borrowing a system widely used in the early days in Canada, early French farmers in the bottom lands of Southern Illinois farmed in long strips, sometimes a mile or more long, and with only a few yards of frontage.

The need of river communication had developed the system. It is described in an old history of the period as follows:

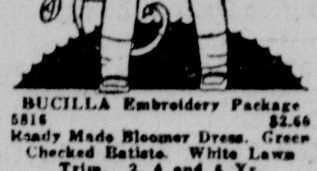

"Thus the cultivated lands of Kaskaskia, technically known as the common fields, stretched like ribbons from the Mississippi to the village, individual possessions, separated from each other by two furrows, varied from one hundred and eighty feet to five hundred and forty feet in frontage, and contained from forty to one hundred and eighty three acres."

"Along the front of the common fields nearest the village stretched a common fence, each landowner being responsible for the part upon his strip. Where the fence crossed a road there was a gate attended by a decrepit slave. This fence separated the common fields from the commons, a possession of the community where the cattle and horses grazed and the pigs roamed at will. Each inhabitant had his particular mark for his animals, registered with the clerk of the court."

FORD SEES GOOD CHEER.

Henry Ford, whose roaring factories don't keep him too busy to cast a roving eye over the state of the nation every so often, thinks that America has a very rosy future.

In a recently published interview, Ford looks ahead and sees nothing but that which is good. He foresees men living longer lives, and filling them with more happiness and achievement than they know now. He sees a steady growth in the use of machines; in fact, he believes that machinery has accomplished and is accomplishing that which preaching and fighting have failed to accomplish. He brands himself as America's greatest optimist.

This is a refreshing thing to hear in this day when magazines and newspapers and pulpits are filled with prophecies of despair. It is good to be told that our machine civilization is not a relentless juggernaut but a potent friend. It is comforting to be told that the clever young men who write our novels are looking at the American scene through the wrong end of the telescope.

We need more of it. It is time we awoke to the fact that we are standing on the threshold of the greatest age the world has ever seen.

History seems to proceed in waves. There are recurring periods of preparation, confusing and sometimes terrifying to those who are living in them; and then, all of a sudden, mankind discovers that it has topped another long rise, and that a magnificent prospect is spread out before it.

Such a time came in the Elizabethan age. A new world had been discovered beyond the ocean. The most fantastic tales could be believed; Raleigh sailed to find a city made all of gold, and no man doubted that it was there. Doughty Spaniards toiled through American wildernesses, hunting fountains of youth, hidden kingdoms of emeralds and gold, fabulous kings whose very slaves lived in houses more valuable than the palaces of Europe. Men's hearts were lifted up; the age of hope was broken.

Our situation is like that. We, too, are being shown golden cities just over the horizon. We, too, believe fabulous tales—tales of new machines that will free us from toil, tales of inventions that will lengthen our lives, tales of science that will banish disease. We see the ancient enemies, poverty and ignorance, placed on the defensive for the first time in history.

There is in this country a literature of despair. It is out of place, and it will pass like a morning mist before the sun. Never before was there such an age of hope. Never before were man's horizons being so extended. Our prophecies are not our Menckens, but our Fords. Our wildest dreams will presently come true. We are on the threshold of the Golden Age.

MURDER IN CANADA.

Canadian authorities, preparing to execute a young woman for murder, are reported highly surprised at the wave of protest rising from the United States.

They simply don't understand, that's all. They don't realize that one of the inalienable rights of the free-born American citizen is to put his murderers on a pedestal; to be soft-hearted about them when they get arrested; to acquit them, in 99 cases out of 100, and to shed many mawkish tears over the 100th who chances to get her just deserts.

Apparently the Canadians don't do it that way. Is it possible that their legal machinery grinds smoothly without being oiled by sentiment?

The former Irene Castle proposes to start a farm where homeless dogs could be cared for. Something has to be done for them; judges positively refuse to give them alimony.

The parking ban in Chicago's loop is declared a success. The aim is now unobstructed.

Secretary of War Davis wants Lindy to quit risking his neck as a flyer. But, maybe it isn't his neck he's risking so much as his stomach.

On and on goes the scandal brewed from Teapot Dome. It's one of the few instances, though when money talked loud enough to bore us.

When Lindbergh flew over Nicaragua why didn't he drop a little of that good will cement on the enemy?

THE KNYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

The shower of rubber balls was queer, and Scouty shouted out "Oh, dear, let's hide beneath this rubber tree so we will not be hit. Some rubber balls are large, some small, and it is hard to dodge them all. I'd like to try and catch one, but I have no catcher's mitt."

So, underneath the tree they dropped to wait until the odd shower stopped. "That is the queerest sight I've seen," said Carpy, with a grin. "At first it filled me with alarm, but now it seems we're safe from harm. Just then a rubber ball bounced up and hit him on the chin."

"Ha, ha," laughed Clowny, "what a treat. The way that hit you sure was neat. I'll bet it did hurt, although your chin is getting red." "Of course it didn't," Carpy cried. Then, in a moment, Clowny sighed. "Oh, ouch!" A rubber ball had dropped and bounced right off his head.

"Why, they are soft as they can be," said Clowny.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Mom:

You don't know men at all, you innocent darling, if you think they have to be lured into "forgetting themselves." Why, there isn't any more sex appeal in a pair of pretty legs than there is in a pretty face. Old-rain-in-the-face Martin is just the kind he is because he is that kind, and I hope you won't attempt to deny that men got fresh with girls even in your day of so-called modest fashions.

But I suppose someone always found a reason for placing the blame on the girls. Maybe because they lifted their eyelashes and let the men peep into their souls!

But listen, Mom, if men are going to worry about the way girls dress, there won't be much business done.

The millions of men who are holding onto their stenographers in spite of scanty attire and short skirts should mean something to you. It does to me. It means that men are not losing their heads at the sight of feminine figures revealed by modern dress.

I'd hate to think that Alan was such a crumb he couldn't be trusted to withstand the "temptation" of an up-to-the-minute girl in his office. I wouldn't want him to be so unimaginative as to prefer a homely stenographer to a swell looker, either. No more than I'd want him to lose him taste for anything that's attractive. Goodness knows I still admire a good-looking man and I don't see that it hurt anyone.

Lovingly,
MARYE.NEXT: "Mom" considers the next step in dress.

Six Foreign Nations Have Left Hand Drive

London—(AP)—The American tourist who expects to do his sight-seeing in Europe from his own motor car had better begin practicing ambidexterity. And even then he may spend most of his time abroad in trying to find out whether to drive on the right or left hand side of the street.

If the American visitor goes to Portugal he must drive on the left hand side. But if he crosses the border into Spain and drives on the left hand side he will get into trouble. Over the line in France he must drive, as in Spain, on the right hand side if he wants the French gendarmes to wave him on without protest.

Some of the Continental countries have been debating whether a uniform regulation cannot be made to apply to all countries, making them right or left. Austria, after centuries of use of the left hand side for traffic, has decided to follow the example of the United States and adopt the right hand side. Thus far, however, only one district is using the right hand.

Countries which follow the example of England—left hand—rather than that of the United States, are Sweden, Czechoslovakia, Portugal, Hungary and part of Austria. The other countries drive on the right hand side.

Motor cars in states where right hand driving is the thing have the steering wheel on the left hand side and where left hand driving is ordered on the right side.

Motorists have complained of the left-hand system in England, but the Royal Automobile club says there is no prospect of legislation to change the custom of centuries.

Major Segrave of England, who holds the world's automobile speed record, declares that driving on the left hand side of the road when the motor car has the steering wheel on the right side is inefficient because the driver always has the width of the car between himself and the curb.

"The consequence is," Segrave says, "that he leaves himself a broad margin and therefore drives toward the middle of the road."

London newspapers agree that although the London policemen are the best traffic controllers in the world, traffic is much slower in London than in Paris.

Lowden and Smith Alone in N. Dakota

Bismarck, N. D., Mar. 1.—(AP)—The time limit for the filing of presidential primary petitions expired last midnight, with the names of Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois and Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York entered for Republican and Democratic preference, respectively.

A petition asking that the name of Gov. Smith appear as a Democratic presidential candidate on the ballot in North Dakota March 20 was filed with the Secretary of State late yesterday. Twenty-four hours before a personal declaration of former Gov. Lowden of Illinois was presented to the Secretary's office by Harrison Garnett, Republican National Committeeman.

E. J. Hughes of Dickinson, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, filed the Smith petition.

So far as has been learned, the name of Gov. Smith is the only one that will appear on the democratic presidential ballot. The same holds true for Mr. Lowden on the republican tickets. Both Non-Partisan leagues and the opposing faction of Republicans known as the Independents have endorsed the Lowden candidacy.

DELANEY LOST TO HEENEY IN GREATEST BOUT

Lightheavy Proved His Gameness With Taking a Licking

MY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, March 2.—(AP)—Once more, despite the most gallant effort of his picturesque career, Jack Delaney today was just a great light heavyweight and not a battler to mix successfully with the ponderous, mauling boys who make up the aspirants for Gene Tunney's heavyweight title.

In fifteen tugging, bruising rounds, bore some at times from the incessant close range fighting, Tom Heenev, the plodding blacksmith from New Zealand, last night outfought the one-time "Rapist of the North" in Mil-lison Square Garden just as Jimmy Maloney, the "Fishmonger of Boston", did a year ago in the same arena.

Made Fine Showing
The defeat tossed Delaney right back to the foot of the heavyweight ladder, but took nothing from his gameness and battling ability even though the steel in his fighting blade did not turn to tin at the sight of a crushing heavyweight. Delaney was outslugged, outroughed and outlasted by one of the ruggedest of present day fighters, but not until he had made the finest showing of his big time heavyweight career.

While the result did not meet with unanimous approval of the 18,000 fans who packed the arena—Delaney himself was certain he had won—there was enough margin for Heenev at the close to leave little question as to the winner. Lacking a decisive outcome such as a knockout, however, there was little doubt that "Honest Tom"
would have to do victorious battle with the winner of the Jack Shakey-Johnny Risk bout here March 12, before gaining the coveted June shot at Gene Tunney's heavyweight title.

Was Man Possessed Right from the opening gong, the bulky muscled battler from "down under" who horned his way into the "elimination" racket at the start almost on a "ducat" and with little appreciation that he would ever amount to anything, threw himself into Delaney like a man possessed.

For fifteen rounds, he stayed on top of the colorful French-Canadian, silencing the big gun in Delaney's right hand with east while he chopped, tore and cuffed at his rival's head and body. Heenev's punches were short, for he wasn't much but bulk in the way of arms, but they kept Delaney so busy blocking, clinching and holding to save punishment that an offensive was a most difficult thing.

Fought With Left
While Heenev plowed to close quarters, his head buried in his broad, brawny chest, the right hand that made Delaney king of the 175 pounders was virtually useless. The bronzed woodman with the flashing black eyes was forced to depend almost entirely on a left hook, swung incessantly to head and body, for which the burly Anzac had little or no defense.

While Heenev fought the kind of a battle that could be told in first round and then repeated fourteen times to take in the entire match, Delaney furnished the high spots. All told Delaney had a margin in six of the rounds while Heenev gathered in eight and one was even.

Perhaps the highest point in the engagement came in the tenth session, when Delaney battling with new vigor and abandon, crashed a left hook to the sturdy chin of the New Zealander. For the first time in the fight, Heenev, despite his 20 pound weight advantage, wavered under the impact of the blow, and was glad to clinch.

As he did, Delaney cut loose with all the fierce punching ability hidden in his majestic shoulders, and a hail of leather, storming in from all directions, beat about Tom's head. But that solid chin took it all, buried into his chest when the gale became too great, and the round ended Delaney's great opportunity.

From this photograph of Gene Tunney we learn that our heavy-gifted. This may prove more of a shock than ever to some of our fighting

ROBINS WANT LOCKE

New York, Mar. 2.—(AP)—Roland Locke, famous Nebraska sprinter, has an offer to give up the cinder path for the diamond.

Acting upon the recommendation of Dave Bancroft, Manager Robinson of the Brooklyn Nationals has invited Locke to report at Clearwater, Fla., for a tryout with the Dodgers.
Bancroft is a friend of Locke and although neither he nor Robinson have seen the Nebraska performer on a baseball field, they have reports that he displays ability as an outfielder.

It is understood that Locke will abide by Robinson's judgment as to whether he should abandon the track in his pursuit for a major league career.

Although Dazzy Vance has not signed a contract for 1928, he pitched two innings for the Robins in practice yesterday.

The Giants had their first drill in Augusta, Ga., yesterday with a squad of 32 reporting. Vic Aldridge, the pitcher traded to New York by Pittsburgh in return for Burleigh Grimes, has yet to put in an appearance.

Rookies had a big day at the Yankees' camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.
Byrd of Alabama and Cooke, a Carolinian, performed in the outfield to the satisfaction of Manager Miller Huggins. Lou Gehrig connected for another long swat to the lake adjacent to the diamond. Babe Ruth is becoming bronzed by the sun with his religious patrol of the golf links.

CONNIE SIGNS UP

Philadelphia, March 2.—(AP)— Connie Mack, boss of the Philadelphia Athletics, was happy at Fort Myers, Fla., today because he had added to his basket of peaches for 1928
one of the Georgia variety.

Ty Cobb has wired that he will be with the club again this year. No figures are announced.

"It took a long campaign to get Ty for another season," Mack said.
"He had virtually retired from baseball and didn't want to play, but when I showed him how useful he would be to me next season and moreover give us a chance for the penalty, he finally consented to join us."

"Cobb is still one of the greatest players in the game. Right today there is none more colorful. Perhaps he is not the Ty of ten years ago but he is still head and shoulders above the majority fielders. He played brilliantly last year and will deliver again this season."

"I'm one manager who never thinks of age when selecting a ball player.
All I want to know is what they can do. Ty will be an inspiration to every player and help the whole team."

"Cobb, Speaker and Simmons! What an outfield that will be!"
At Winter Haven, Fla., the Phillies are working on a twice-a-day schedule, with all hands putting their stuff on exhibition under the watchful eye of Manager Burt Shotton. Nearly every position will be an open fight this season.

BROWNS DRILL NEVERS
St. Louis, Mar. 2.—(AP)—Sunny
Jim Bottomley and Frankie Frisch have joined the Cardinals at Avon Park, Fla., and the absentees number only four—outfielders Hafev, Douthett and Roetger and Pitcher Flint Rhem.
Rhem is the only holdout. Ray Blades with an annual $600 bonus to act as captain. He signed the contract yesterday.

The contract was voluntarily submitted to the Rajah by Judge Emil E. Fuchs, president of the club, and came as a surprise to Hornby whose contract with the New York Giants, which the Braves took over when he was traded to Boston, had another year to run.

Hornby's New York contract was for $45,000 a season. He characterized Judge Fuchs' action as "handsome", and said, "You may be sure that I appreciate the consideration shown me, and if I can make it up to the Boston club, giving it the best that is in me, I certainly will do so."

Things have moved along so smoothly at the Bradenton, Fla.,
camp of the Red Sox that Manager Bill Carrigan has announced that real baseball will start next week by the Sox entertaining the St. Louis Cardinals on Wednesday. Carrigan figures he has about nine pitchers ready to "get in there." "Buddy" Myer and Ira Flagstead arrived yesterday. Myer, who has been in the holdout column, signed up without a raise.

CUBS TO PLAY GAME
Chicago, March 2.—(AP)—A regular ball game, the first of 1928 for the Cubs, has been arranged for tomorrow by Manager McCarthy, to prepare the squad for a full nine-inning contest Sunday at the Cataline Island camp with the team from the Battleship Tennessee. Tomorrow's fray will last only five innings, with about three pitchers doing the flinging for each side.

McCarthy took charge at the sliding pit yesterday, teaching Woody English, last year's shortstop "find"
how to go into the base feet first,
and the manager twisted his leg painfully in the demonstration.

The first full-time workout for the White Sox at Shreveport was a bit chilly, but the three infield recruits, Cissell, Mann and Redfield, cut loose with all they had. In his first exhibition Cissell impressed the old-timers as possessing talent that would make him a permanent fixture at short, leaving second base as the only infield problem for Manager Schalk.

Danced 61 Hours For New Record

The song goes "We've danced the whole night through." But Albert Bonack and Marion Jaque of Pittsburgh don't sing it that way—they sing, "We've danced several nights and a couple of days." They won the marathon dancing contest at Pittsburgh by hopping, flitting, dipping and so on for 61 hours, 54 minutes. They are shown above just before the start, Albert fixing up his partner's toes, and the inset pictures them just after it was all over.

SPORT SLANTS

Chicago, Mar. 2.—(AP)—Abolition of the center jump in basketball proposed recently by Sam Barry, Iowa coach, gained another advocate today in Coach Harold G. Olson of Ohio State.

These two are agreed that it would make for better team play to have the center jump only at the start of the first and second halves. At each score, the team scored upon would be given the ball out of bounds.

Barry and Olson charge that the team with the tallest center nearly always wins, and the supply of six footers-plus is growing scarce.

New York, Mar. 2.—(AP)—Dr. Otto Peltzer, German middle distance star who will sail for home on March 10, looks forward to meeting with Lloyd Hahn on an outdoor track meet some time in the future.

Peltzer expressed great admiration for Hahn who won the "Mile of a Century" race Wednesday night in 4:13, a second slower than the world's record.

The German runner raced with an injured foot but didn't desire to advance an alibi or withdraw from the event. He said the injury was received in a workout at Georgetown.

Peltzer was beaten in two of three races in this country. He finished a poor third with Conger second in the race with Hahn at the Knights of Columbus meet.

Northwestern Youth is Leading Scorer

Chicago, Mar. 2.—(AP)—It is the turn of Russell Walter, Northwestern Sophomore, to lead the procession of Big Ten basketball deadshots. He took the lead today by a mere two points from Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan all-around star.

Branch McCracken, Indiana center, who held the basket shooting lead all season until last week, now is in third place and Charles Murphy, Purdue center, in fourth. All four of them have taken turns in the leadership, and three—Walter, McCracken and Murphy—are sophomores, bursting into prominence in their first year of Big Ten competition.

Walter has made 113 points in 11

as Hitchcock, Jr., will be the judges.
Each college flying club will be allowed to enter only one plane, but may enter three pilots. All planes will be of the same speed and power class.

Final details of the race will be completed at a meeting of representatives of the Aeronautic Association, which is sponsoring it, and the various college flying groups, to be held in New York April 9. The types of planes eligible to compete also will be determined at that time.

Mandell Says James Must Come West

Chicago, Mar. 2.—(AP)—The lightweight champion, Sammy Mandell, is sure he wants to defend his crown against Jimmy McLarnin in Chicago instead of New York, but he isn't so positive he can beat the Coast puncher.

"I won't say I can beat McLarnin," said Sammy, "but I'm sure McLarnin can't beat me. I saw him knock out Kid Kaplan, and while he can hit, he will be easy to land on. He's only a challenger and if he wants this chance at the title, he will have to come to Chicago."

McLarnin Posts Check

New York, Mar. 2.—Jimmy McLar-nin, sensational Los Angeles lightweight has filed a challenge with the New York State Athletic Commission for a title match with Sammy Man-dell, king of the division. McLarnin accompanied his challenge with a check for $2500.

The commission accepted the check and placed McLarnin at the top of the contenders list in place of Sid Terris, of New York, whom the Coast star knocked out in single round last week. Terris had been recognized by the commission as the outstanding challenger for the title for the past two years.

formed shortly after he was seen

ing to determine whether he shot himself accidentally. He was employed here by the Roxanna Corporation.

denly last Monday. Doll, 44 years old,

MAYTOWN

Maytown—Thomas Murphy is on the sick list.

Wm. Sharkey spent Tuesday at the Michael Paley home.

A surprise in the form of a miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. James Todd Sunday at the home of the former's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Wm. Todd in Ohio. About sixty were present. The bride received many beautiful and useful gifts, including cut glass, silverware, and linens. A very appetizing lunchon was served after which the guests departed having spent a pleasant afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Mulvaney of Chicago were here Monday for the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Mary Antoine.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McCormick spent Monday in Amboy.

At a meeting held at St. Patrick's

Fred Leake presided it was agreed to bond the town to the amount of $25,000 to build gravel roads. This will have to meet with the approval of over half of the land owners and also be voted on at the spring election.

World Commerce News Notes by A. P.

SECURITY VOLUME

New York—An idea of the enormous volume of security trading in the United States is gained from the report of one broker house which says its transactions in government bonds alone averaged more than $47,700 every minute of trading hours every day in 1927. These sales reflected the supply and demand of virtually the entire country, since the house has numerous branches.

PRUSSIA BANS TOLLS

Berlin—A surtax on automobiles will replace bridge tolls from motor vehicle traffic in Prussia under a recent decree. Four per cent of the income from the taxes will be used for maintenance of bridges and the remainder for upkeep of public highways.

NEW PORT FOR POLAND

Bucharest—Poland is building the new Port of Gdynia on the 100-mile strip of coast along the Baltic sea granted it under the Treaty of Versailles. The port already is in use as an outgoing station for coal and lumber, but it is planned to increase facilities to handle more than 10 million tons of shipping annually.

VEGETABLES FOR ENGLAND

London—A new company is planning to supply the London market with vegetable concentrates, similar to various meat extracts now sold. Extracts of celery, onions, carrots and sugar beet tops, lettuce, watercress, potatoes, spinach and cabbages will be concentrated for use for soups or flavoring.

FIRST SILK HOSE

Halifax—It may be cold in Nova Scotia but the girls must have their silk hose and consequently, in an effort to meet the demand, the first full-fashioned silk hosiery ever produced in the Canadian maritime provinces was made in a new hosiery mill at Truro in December. Experts from England, Scotland, the United States and Quebec have been engaged to instruct workers.

MUNICIPAL RADIO

The Hague—More than 2500 homes are getting radio entertainment over the telephone here, simply by attaching an amplifier and loud speaker and paying $7.20 a year. The system is owned and operated by the municipality.

SAVE BUILDING COSTS

Washington—Use of end-matched lumber in building a small house here is reported to have saved 25 per cent in labor, 15 per cent in time of construction and 11 per cent in material. Random lengths are tightly joined by the application of tongue and grooves to the ends of lumber.

STEEL RAILROAD TIES

Bremen—German firms have obtained a $2,500,000 order from the Union of South Africa for steel railroad ties. Because of the decreasing supply of timber in South Africa it is planned to equip all railroads with steel ties. German firms sold $5,000,000 worth last year alone.

IMPROVE WATCHMAKERS

Washington—Watch repair work in this country is to be placed on a higher level through cooperation of watchmakers with the Horological Institute of America. The Institute is granting junior and certified certificates to watchmakers who pass an examination which includes watch repairing and a written test designed to show expert knowledge as well as practical experience.

HOME-MADE HOSIERY

Cape Town—Popularity of woolen hosiery in South Africa is ascribed to the large amount of home knitting, especially among the upper classes in the urban centers. The market for woolen hose consequently is limited.

SOMBRE CRAVATS POPULAR

Copenhagen—The brightly colored combinations and patterns of American neckties meet with little favor in Denmark. The well dressed Danes prefer to purchase the sombre or plain colored cravats made in Germany, England, France and Switzerland.

WATER TRAFFIC HEAVY

Montreal—Four-fifths of 195,000,000 bushels of grain arriving at the Port of Montreal last year was carried in ships and 18 per cent in railroad cars. The percentage of shipping gained noticeably over 1926.

ENGINES FOR TURKEY

Stockholm—Swedish locomotive manufacturers have delivered to Turkey an initial order of locomotives. They are five-wheel drive superheaters of 15,000 horsepower and were driven and ferried to Constantinople.

BOURSE TURNOVER DOUBLES

Stockholm—The 1927 turnover on the Stockholm Bourse was nearly double that of 1926, stocks making the greatest gain. The 1927 total was 443,000,000 crowns as compared with 285,000,000 in 1926.

Farmers should read our public sale ads. New ones appear daily in the Evening Telegraph.

NO TRUCKS FOR TIBET

Calcutta—Because a motor lorry frightened a pony ridden by a relative and killed him, the Dalai Lama has forbidden establishment of motor transport service across Tibet.

BARRYMORE WAS SECOND BEST IN REAL ENCOUNTER

Selznick, Film Agent, Said to Have Given Star Beating

Hollywood, Cal., Mar. 1—(AP)—John Barrymore, hero of many stage and screen duels, today was in seclusion, asserted as the result of being the loser in a "real fight which lasted about ten minutes" on the lawn of the Ambassador Hotel Saturday night.

Myron Selznick, film agent, who said he had resented Barrymore's "slurring remarks" about his nationality, gave his opinion that the actor would not be seen in public "for at least several days."

At the motion picture studio which features Barrymore in the films it was declared that the actor left on Monday for a movie location. His friends reported him missing, and neither the actor nor his representatives issued any denial of the fist fight or Selznick's account of it.

On the night when the Wampas ball was being attended by filmdom's elite at the Ambassador, Selznick said he was holding a supper party when Owen Moore, also of the screen, called to him. Moore told Selznick he was wanted by Lionel Barrymore to discuss a business matter. Lionel's brother, John, also was at the hotel bungalow where Selznick declared John Barrymore made the slurring remarks about his nationality.

"I felt I had been insulted," Selznick said, "and asked him like a gentleman to refrain from making more remarks. He wanted me to fight him and I told him I respected his age. This seemed to anger him very much, so when I left the bungalow he followed Moore and I."

"We had a real fight which lasted about ten minutes. Moore tried to separate us but was unable to do so. That probably is the reason we fought so long. Then I returned to the supper party and Barrymore went back to his bungalow."

Moore declined to comment on the fist fight.

Strike of New York Traction Men Likely

New York, Mar. 1—(AP)—A strike on New York's main subway and elevated lines apparently was but a few hours away today.

Demanding that twenty-three members, discharged by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, be reinstated or the question submitted to an impartial arbitration board, the local branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, a national union affiliated with the A. P. of L. rejected the compromise which Mayor

James J. Walker had reached with the company and the I. R. T. Brotherhood, the company union.

The conference of Mayor Walker and the company officials and union leaders, held behind closed doors, was described as one of the most stormy in years with the Mayor calling attention to the clause in the city's contract with the Interborough which provides that the company officials can be held responsible for any strike if they provoke it or connive at it.

Made of rich, nutritious meat products instead of cheaper vegetable oils, GOOD LUCK has a flavor which simply can't be told from that of expensive spreads-for-bread. Try GOOD LUCK... both on your table and in cooking... and see how very much better it is.

20,000 Species Bugs Found in this State

Urbana, Ill., March 1.—(AP)—Twenty thousand species of "bugs" inhabit Illinois, consuming the farmers' crops, endangering domestic animals, and even threatening the existence of man.

Theodore H. Frison, entomologist of the Illinois State Natural Survey, declared here today.

"Nearly every plant that grows," he said, "foots the board bill for a few or many kinds of insects. Not content with attacking the plants, they are constantly a source of danger to animals. In fact, it is the opinion of some that the struggle is now underway to determine whether man or insects are to dominate this world."

He cited the fact that more than 200 insects attacked corn, 400 attacked apple trees and 500 insects lived on oak trees.

Species of each of the bugs are contained in a collection of insects here, called one of the finest in America. For nearly half a century, the collection has been built up at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

It was started in 1883 by Stephen A. Forbes, chief of the survey and Illinois' oldest state employee.

"If one of each kind of the insects now found in Illinois could pass by a certain point in sort of a military review," Mr. Frison said, "it would take 14 days and nights, allowing one minute for each species to pass."

The collection's value is found in comparing discoveries of new insects to those already known in an effort to determine whether or not a new species has developed. "Just last year, a new enemy of roses," Mr. Frison said, "appeared in a greenhouse in Chicago. It was necessary to find out whether this was an old bug on a rampage, or a newcomer. The state collection was consulted, and it was soon learned that no similar bug had ever appeared in the state before. Further study revealed it was new to science and it was given a name and subjected to a scientific study."

Police Race Train to Capture Robber

Chicago, Mar. 1.—(AP)—A squad of Forest Park policemen in an automobile raced with an elevated train today to Oak Park, stopped the train and captured Thomas McGorty, 39, paroled convict who had shot and seriously wounded a Lombard policeman and a motorist at Lombard, then boarded the train, a sawed off shotgun still under his coat.

McGorty shot policeman Ira Klaxton in the head when the officer tried to capture him after he had wounded John Oaf, when Oaf resisted McGorty's attempt to rob him.

Oaf was sitting in a parked automobile with a woman companion when McGorty came upon him just after robbing a Forest Park taxicab driver of $4. McGorty was paroled from Joliet prison three months ago, the police said, after serving three years of a three to twenty years sentence for robbery in Chicago.

Colonel Stimson ignored the question of insular independence in his inaugural address beyond saying that the future relations of the islands to the United States "rests with the government of the United States."

In more or less direct phrases he asked the Filipinos to forget politics for a while and concentrate their efforts upon economic development as a means of attaining greater political freedom.

"What we have to accomplish together in a successful administration of government in these islands can only be achieved by the fullest possible measure of sympathetic and patient cooperation," he said.

Liquor Conspiracy Case is Terminated

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 1.—(AP)—The largest local liquor conspiracy case on record since prohibition laws became effective, the so-called Madison County liquor ring case, was virtually over today.

More than half of those who have pleaded guilty were under sentences of fines and imprisonment. Thirty-five more will be sentenced today. Nine others, the total out of 105 defendants who stood by their pleas of not guilty, will receive a jury trial starting March 12.

Fines assessed yesterday totaled more than $20,000. Orason O. O'Brien in whose name the indictment was returned by a grand jury, was fined $5,000 and sentenced to eighteen months in federal penitentiary.

John B. Madden, prohibition director for this area, is authority for the statement that this was the largest liquor conspiracy case on record. Seven men worked in Madison county for over a year, he said, and 350 arrests were made in that county.

When the under-cover agents started, he said, Madison county was considered the "wettest" county for its size in the United States.

Forty-two men were sentenced late yesterday. In most cases fines were assessed, and in many cases the fines were paid then and there, the defendants pulling large rolls of bills from their pockets.

Hunt Four Indicted for Robbery of Mail

Chicago, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Police and federal authorities combined today sought the arrest of four men indicted for complicity in the $133,000 train robbery at Evergreen Park, a suburb, last week.

The men still at large are William Jackson, alleged racketeer; Virgil Litsinger, politician; and two others whose names were withheld.

Jackson and Litsinger were implicated in the confession of Mrs. Regina Donovan, wife of one of the alleged robbers.

Those indicted and under arrest are Charles (Lampy) Cleaver, said to be the leader; William Donovan and Frank (Bozo) Meccia. They are under bond of $100,000 each.

Authorities said that a railroad switchman, referred to only as "Old Gus," surrendered yesterday and confessed that he gave information to the bandits that was of assistance in planning the holdup.

Good Thoughts for Good People

As humanity grows into the understanding that all goodness is due to the activity of the one infinite divine Principle, there will be more spontaneity and joy in acknowledging the good; also, there will be a lessening of bigotry, envy, and jealousy, with the result that personal sacrifice will be more readily appreciated and honored. Not mere words, but an honest endeavor to go and do likewise, will of course always be accepted as the highest expression of this true regard.

The Christian Science Monitor.

So live that every thought and deed May hold within itself the seed Of future good and future need.

Milton.

'Tis only noble to be good.

Tennyson.

Our whole life is startling moral. There is never an instant's truce between virtue and vice. Goodness is the only investment that never fails.

Thoreau.

His daily prayer, far better understood in acts than words, was simply doing good.

Whittier.

And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God; but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

Matthew.

The observance of both these ordinances are public testimonies that He is our Lord and Saviour.

Missions of Mercy in Peace or War Await Red Cross Nursing Recruits

THE RED CROSS NURSE IN WAR TIME CHEERS THE WOUNDED SOLDIER.

To enlist the young women of the nation in the cause of mercy, prepared to serve in time of the country's stress—in peace or war—is one of the purposes which has prompted the American Red Cross Nursing Service to call for the second annual observance of Jane A. Delano Nurses Recruiting Week, from March 5 to 12.

Only graduate trained nurses, from accredited schools, may enroll in the Red Cross Nursing Service. In honoring, nation-wide, the memory of Jane Delano—famous and distinguished head of the Red Cross Nurses prior to and during the World War, it is hoped also to direct the attention of girls graduating from high school and college to the nursing profession as a career offering wide possibilities of service.

Regulations of the U. S. Army designate the enrolled Red Cross nurses as a reserve to the Army Nurses Corps, subject to call to duty in time of war. In addition the Red Cross nurses are called into service at times of great disaster, such as the Mississippi Valley flood of 1927, or in any other relief or humanitarian work conducted under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

During the World War, more than 20,000 graduate nurses were supplied by the Red Cross to serve with the Army and Navy and other Government services and the Red Cross; many hundreds of these were utilized for nursing relief work under Red Cross commissions in foreign nations; and thousands gave great assistance in the crises of the several influenza epidemics in the United States.

"Marriage removes an average of 100 nurses from our civil roll each month," said Miss Clara D. Noyes, national director of American Red Cross nursing service, in discussing plans for Jane A. Delano Week, "and death, illness and resignation cause us to lose another fifty each month. The nurse who marries or who passes the age limit of 45, may enroll for Home Defense work, but she is not eligible for the Army service. Although we have had an average enrollment of 46,000 since the beginning of enrollment twenty years ago, to maintain our standard we must enroll the young graduate nurses as they come from school."

"We are anxious also to have the girl, just leaving high school or college, who is thinking of a career, consider what fascination and interest—and even romance—lie in the also very sympathetic and helpful career of the nurse. Remuneration, whether in public work, in military or civilian work, or in private or hospital life, is comparable with that in other professions open to women."

Senior classes of virtually all nurses' training schools will participate in exercises March 12, the birth date of Miss Delano, in commemoration of her great service to nursing and of her heroic death in France, a sacrifice to war service, not long after the Armistice. Enrollment of graduate nurses is commensurate through committees composed of Red Cross nurses on Red Cross nursing service in the various communities.

"CHIPS FROM WASHINGTON"

by John H. Byers

February 27, 1928.
House Office Building.
Spring is here. Weather fine. After March 4th, we will enjoy the kind of weather that makes you feel like really living. February has been rainy and awful. The same old February every year.

The House finished the District of Columbia business today and for the rest of this week it will take up and complete the Department of Agriculture Appropriation bill. Next week the House Committee on Agriculture promises a farm relief bill with the equalization fee in it and, if it passes Congress, the President will veto it. But the farm organizations insist on the equalization feature and the bill will have it in, so look out for "fireworks" Congress is willing to give the farm organizations just what they wish.

In the last fiscal year 448,456 people visited Mt. Vernon, nearly all of them patriotic Americans who left there inspired and uplifted. The members of the Illinois Society will miss William P. Hallett of Sterling who passed away on Washington's birthday. Mr. Hallett came to Washington in 1915.

Representative Richard Yates was the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Washington Board of Trade last Thursday night. His subject was "President Washington and the Federal City."

Mrs. Alvin Dodd is visiting in New York. Her husband is well known at Dixon, his old home being at Grand Detour.

W. S. Dunnett, superintendent of the Rock Falls schools was a visitor at the office the other day. He was on his way to Boston to attend the National Educational Association meeting.

Miss Ruth Eastbrook of Milledgeville was one of our visitors this week. Miss Eastbrook has been in Washington for the past nine years and is filling a responsible position at the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

A bill authorizing an additional $100,000,000 for postoffices and Federal buildings throughout the country was signed February 24 by President Coolidge. It increases by that amount the total authorization for public buildings, which is now $265,000,000. Of that amount $200,000,000 is authorized to be spent throughout the country and $65,000,000 in the District of Columbia. The remaining $15,000,000 is an unexpended balance which the Treasury and Post Office Departments may expend as they see fit. The law carries $275,000 for remodeling the postoffice building at Freeport. This item was placed in the bill by Congressman Johnson.

Mayor William Hale Thompson dropped down to see us the other day and while here had lunch with the President. "Big Bill" still believes that Coolidge should be drafted. Primarily the purpose of the Mayor's visit was to discuss with the members of the House and the President the problems of flood control. He is in favor of the Reid bill.

The members of the Illinois delegation who have opposition in the April primaries are Irwin of East St. Louis, Allen of Monmouth, Hall of Bloomington, Buckbee of Rockford and King of Galesburg. Former Representative Frank Funk is opposing Representative Homer Hall. Buckbee has two opponents. Hall and Buckbee are new members and it is quite likely that their people will send them back for another term. All these mentioned are downstate members. The Chicago members always have opposition.

Illinois members are not at all anxious to come home for the April primaries owing to the contest for state offices. Upon the situation in Illinois nearly all of them are as quiet as mice. They are all guessing what the outcome will be and are watching the contest with considerable interest.

Colonel Frank O. Lowden is gaining from all the reports. A newspaper man sat in my office the other night and discussed the situation with me. He comes from North Carolina and he remarked that Lowden was the only man spoken of for president who can pull down the democratic vote in his state. He said Colonel Lowden made some speeches in North Carolina some time ago that pleased his people very much. Vice-President Dawes is as still as a mouse about the presidential proposition. He has many friends down here. He is sitting tight and is looking after the Senate and smoking his pipe. During the past few days there has been considerable talk about the democrats and a dark horse. Robinson of Arkansas is spoken of a good deal. Up to date, however, Governor Smith of New York is still running ahead. Hull of Tennessee is gaining some strength. It won't be long now, for June will soon be with us and then watch Houston, Texas and Kansas City. There'll be a hot time in those two cities.

Congressman Hall of Bloomington has introduced a bill fixing the salaries of United States Senators. Members of Congress and others. In his last campaign Hall insisted that salaries were too high. Congressman Hughes of West Virginia has introduced a bill increasing the salaries of employees of the House of Representatives. And so it goes—one wants salaries reduced—another wants them increased. My guess is that both bills will rest in peace.

Representative Green of Iowa, chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, has been appointed by the President to a place on the Court of Claims. Hawley of Conn., will become chairman of the committee if Green is confined. Green and Mellon did not get along so very well over the Revenue bill. But Walsh—one of the senators, says Green is too old—his age being 73 years. It will be interesting to watch the outcome. Hawley is an early riser. He is in his office every morning around 8 o'clock and he is one of the hard workers of the House. Green is an able man and authority on revenue matters.

We all had a big time down here on Washington's birthday. In every church and school house the story of the hatchet was told. Senator Fess of Ohio spoke at the big meeting at the National Theater. President Coolidge went down the river to Alexandria and delivered a speech. All the departments were closed for the day and most of the large business places shut down at noon. Congress met for one hour then adjourned for the day. But most of the congressional secretaries worked away as if nothing was happening.

Richard Johnson, the congressman's brother is here from Freeport. Their niece, Miss Jane Wilson of Freeport, who is attending the Fairmont School for Girls underwent an operation for appendicitis last Friday. Miss Wilson's operation was successful and she is getting along as well as can be expected. She will leave the hospital about Sunday.

Congressman Ed. Hull of Peoria has returned from Illinois. He says there is a lot doing back home—but he would not discuss the situation. Our state with but one senator is sure getting space in the eastern newspapers.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle!—2 Sam. 1:25.

What is defeat? Nothing but education, nothing but the first step to something better.—Wendell Phillips.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

The Outward Look. (Read Phil. 3:12-16.) Memory Verse: Stretching forward to the things which are before. (Phil. 3:13.)

Dr. Alexander Whyte of Edinburgh used to give this advice to his assistants and other young ministers: "Be careful of your health, but be careless of your life." These two bits of advice are closely related. One of the greatest enemies of health is too much self-concern, which easily runs into introspection. The cure for this is to give oneself to abandon to people and causes. A person who is gloriously careless of his life will not dwell questioningly and calculatingly on consequences. He will have the spirit that is conducive to every form of health. There will be no place for self-pity or solicitous self-concern.

Look up, not down.
Look out, not in.
Look forward, not back.
And lend a hand."

Prayer: O Lord of Life, who hast ordained that no man should be idle, give us grace to employ all our faculties and talents in the service appointed for us, that whatsoever our hand findeth to do, we may do it with our might and find the joy and peace that lie in faithful service. Amen.

Memorial Services for Lost Ford Pilot

Melbourne, Fla., March 1—(AP)—Citizens of Melbourne will unite tomorrow in memorial services for Harry Brooks, Ford pilot, whose tiny plane plunged into the sea here last Saturday. The ceremonies will be held on the beach at a spot overlooking the point where the wing tip of the aircraft was sighted by rescuers. All the churches of Melbourne planned to unite in services which will be presided over by a minister of the young pilot's faith. A choir composed of the united voices of singers of various denominations will sing Brooks' favorite hymn.

The seaplane, which first discovered the wreckage of Brooks' plane, will fly over the spot where Brooks fell and strew wreaths of flowers. The plane will be flown by aviators Medos Gravelle and George Rumill of Miami. A firing squad will send a final salute over the watery grave.

See Hal Bardwell for fire insurance.

- 3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.
